BEHIND THE TURNTABLES

Far from predictable, Scarlett88 is truly an open format DJ. She effortlessly mixes across the musical spectrum and can kick it to any song. Dutch DJ & Producer R3HAB selected hers as one of the top 5 mixes in a competition to open for him at Governor's Island. This second generation DJ has beats in her blood. As a faithful roadie for her father, DJ Teji, she found herself working gigs every weekend and falling in love with the craft. While other girls were playing with dolls, this preteen was tirelessly teaching herself how to spin on two scratched up, hand-me-down turntables.

THE BEATS

Scarlett88 is a true open format DJ and does not limit herself to just one musical genre. Given her talent and impeccable intuition, she naturally killed it at NYC's Dubspot DJ School. She is an Ableton Live Certified Producer. Original tracks include "Bang the Beat" and "Can You Feel It" co-produced with Nicky K debuting Scarlet88's own vocals.
